QUESTIONS – Human Resources

We are optimizing our resources by streamlining district office positions to enhance efficiency and focus more on direct support for our schools and students. The district reduced five administrative positions for FY25 from school and Central Office.

The district has conducted a comprehensive review of its administrative processes to identify areas where efficiencies can be gained. Once a Union Contract has been ratified by the membership and approved by the BOE those are mandatory expenses per law. Negotiations are led with district legal counsel. Settled contracts must be competitive for the district to recruit and retain highly qualified staff. Proposals are benchmarked against local districts. We recognize the need to contain the annual growth of benefits expense and will be working with our partners.

The law that was passed is specific to New York City schools. Class sizes will continue to remain in compliance with the NTA negotiated agreement.
